

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN.

VOLUME X.—NO. 28.

LOUISVILLE, SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1903.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GREAT DAY.

Three Solemn Services to Be Held at St. Philip Neri's Church.

Class of Children Will Receive Their First Holy Communion.

Blessing of New Side Altars and Statues Will Take Place.

NEW VESTMENTS ARE TO BE WORN

Tomorrow will be a great day at St. Philip Neri's church, at Floyd and Woodbine streets. The celebration there will include the first holy communion of a class of boys and girls, the blessing of the new side altars and the blessing of the new statues. Rev. Father Oscar P. Ackerman, pastor of St. Philip Neri's church, has done everything in his power to make this triple celebration a success. His efforts should be encouraged by the attendance of devout Catholics from all over the city.

The children who are to receive their first holy communion and confirmation are: Girls—Irrene Ryan, Mary Lenhart, Ellen Englund, Margaret Maloney, Frances Schuff, Helen Winterheld, Ellen Millet and Leola Oehler. Boys—Edward Lochner, Geo. Becker, John Fogler, Charles Niehoff, Andrew Pfister, Bernard Pfister and Joseph Schroer.

The children will receive their first holy communion at the solemn levitical mass to be offered up at 9 o'clock. The new and handsome set of vestments, which cost $2,000 and recently presented to Father Ackerman by a friend, will be worn for the first time. An augmented choir under the direction of the accomplished organist, Miss Ada Metcalf, will sing parts of Haydn's first and third masses. An appropriate sermon will be preached.

During the morning and preceding the mass the new side altars and the new and handsome statues will be blessed. They include a statue of St. Vincent de Paul, presented by the St. Vincent de Paul Society; one of St. Joseph, from Mrs. J. J. Caffrey; St. Aloysius, from the Boys' Sodality; St. Agnes, from the Young Ladies' Sodality; St. Elizabeth of Hungary, from the Altar Society, and a statue of the Blessed Virgin, presented by the Girls' Sodality.

The Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey will administer confirmation to the children who made their first holy communion at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. After this the children will renew their baptismal vows and will be consecrated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus and the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the May devotions will be held beginning with the recitation of the Holy Rosary. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father Charles P. Raffo, pastor of St. Charles Borromeo church. The services will close with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The new vestments to be worn the first time tomorrow have been on exhibition at the Charles A. Rogers Book Company on Jefferson street, near Fourth. It took more than eleven years to complete this set of vestments. The Chasuble was made for the Paris Exposition in 1889, and on being exhibited there received the grand prize. A few years later the dalmatics for deacon and sub-deacon were added. The cape and veil were made and exhibited at the Paris Exposition of 1900. The texture of this set of vestments is a fine gold brocade brought out in relief by threads of brown silk in imitation of the relief work seen in medals and chased work. Each part of the suit represents a scene from the Holy Scripture. The entire suit is known as the "Angelic set of vestments."

Rev. Father Ackerman is an energetic young priest. His church and congregation are comparatively new and yet the church is handsome and the congregation a thriving one, thanks to the zeal and intelligence of the young pastor. No doubt St. Philip Neri's church will be crowded at each of the three services tomorrow.

GONE TO ST. LOUIS.

Messrs. Michael Reichert and Joseph P. McGinn, Kentucky's Supreme Delegates to the national convention of the Catholic Knights of America, have gone to St. Louis, where the convention will begin its sessions on Tuesday. Mr. McGinn is a member of the Committee on Laws, one of the most important committees. Kentucky's interests will be ably looked after by these two gentlemen.

LOOKS A WINNER.

Col. Robert Green, one of the Democratic candidates for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has the backing not only of many leading Democratic politicians, but also the endorsement of all the Democratic Judges of the Appellate bench. Mr. Greene has been in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals during the past eighteen years and is thoroughly conversant with the work of that office. Mr. Greene looks like a winner. Much has been added to his popularity in Louisville by the fact that Horace Lindsay, the genial Deputy Circuit Clerk in Judge Field's court, is to have a snug berth in Mr. Greene's office in the event of his nomination and election. Mr. Lindsay is a hustling young politician and is making new friends every day.

C. K. OF A.

Newport, Covington and Cincinnati Celebrate Anniversary of Order.

The members of the Catholic Knights of America of the three sister cities on the banks of the Ohio celebrated the twenty-sixth anniversary of the foundation of their order in a magnificent manner. The arrangements of the celebration was in charge of the famous Central Committee of Cincinnati, which took such an active part in the organization of our own Central Committee several years ago. While the branches on the Kentucky side of the river had no official connection with the anniversary, the individual members thereof participated therein in large numbers.

The morning services were held in St. Louis church, the cozy little church at Eighth and Walnut streets, which had been reserved for the Knights for this service, who filled it well from wall to wall. At 7:45 the Knights, after a short parade, attended a solemn high mass, during which they approached the holy table in a body and a male chorus rendered a melodious mass.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the Knights assembled on Warsaw avenue and Wells street, Price Hill, for the parade. Proceeded by a military band and flying colors, they marched six hundred strong to St. Lawrence church, the most beautiful and costliest church edifice in the State of Ohio, where levitical vesper services were sung. Prof. Andrew J. Boer, the renowned composer and choirmaster of the Queen City, a member of the order, and the Cincinnati Double Quartet, rendered the best song ever heard in a Cincinnati church. Very Rev. John P. Schoenhof, D. D., Vicar General of the diocese, delivered a most appropriate sermon, dwelling principally upon the world of good that had been done and that could be done in the future for mankind by the Catholic Knights of America. He laid much stress on the fact that because of the sufficient charges for insurance protection the Catholic Knights of America should be favorably considered by the Catholics.

After the singing of the Te Deum the members paraded through the principal avenues of the beautiful suburb and then repaired to John Ortmann's large hall, where an elaborate programme of music, song and speech was carried out, and later on refreshments were served to those who had obtained seats. Addresses were made by Joseph Berning, Supreme Representative and editor of the C. K. of A. Journal; Henry G. Hauck, President of the Central Committee; Harry Gott, State Secretary, and Brothers George Luning, Frank C. Grote, George Goetz, Edward Kotter and H. Rosenberger.

SWEET MUSIC

To Be Given by the Concordia Singing Society For a Good Cause.

The Concordia Singing Society will give a grand concert for the benefit of Rev. Father F. X. Havelburg's congregation at Grayson Springs, at St. Anthony's Hall, Twenty-third and Market streets, tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Professor George Nasholt will direct the entertainment. Among those who will take part in assisting the Concordia Singing Society are Mrs. A. Mohlengraff, J. J. Mueller, Martin Roth, Joseph Pluckebaum, William H. Fritsch, Miss Lena Wiedemeyer, Miss Louise Wiedemeyer, John Grunsser, Ferd J. Eschauer, Robert Otte, M. Stocker and Joseph Uebelhor. Among the numbers to be rendered is the exquisite sextette from Lucia de Launmoor.

Father Havelburg's congregation at Grayson Springs, Ky., is one of the poorest in the diocese and the concert for its benefit should be well attended.

FATHER COLTON

Appointed Bishop of Buffalo, Vice Archbishop Quigley.

The news came from Rome Monday that the Rev. Charles H. Colton, of New York, had been appointed by the Consistory to succeed to the vacant See of Buffalo. Father Colton is one of the most prominent pastors in New York City, and his church, St. Stephen's, is one of the largest in the State. Among his predecessors as pastors of St. Stephen's have been the Rev. Dr. Cummins and the Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn. The appointment of Father Colton was not unexpected. His most formidable rival for the Bishopric of Buffalo was the Very Rev. Father Connery, Vicar General of the diocese of Buffalo.

BAZAR A SUCCESS.

The bazar given by the ladies of St. Augustine's church in Jeffersonville proved a success financially as well as socially. Quite a handsome sum was realized, which will be devoted to making improvements on the church.

MAGNIFICENT

Was the Outpouring of the Young Men's Institute at Cincinnati.

More Than Four Score Candidates Took Obligation of Membership.

Members of the Order Attended Solemn High Mass in a Body.

BANQUET AFTER THE INITIATION

Last Sunday was a gala day for the members of the Young Men's Institute at Cincinnati. Not only did the members of the several Cincinnati Councils take part in the festivities, but members from Newport and Bellevue Councils were also largely in evidence. Besides these there were representatives from Louisville, Terre Haute, Lexington and other cities. The occasion was the joint initiation of eighty-eight candidates from the following Councils: Lafayette Council, Newport, Ky.; Robert F. Doyle Council, Cincinnati, O.; Phil Sheridan Council, Bellevue, Ky.

What is the Young Men's Institute? As the prospectus of the Newport Council explains, "It is a society which aims to unite, to make acquainted, to cause a workable understanding between all the Catholic young men of Newport for God and for country."

The day dawned bright and beautiful on Sunday morning and the members of the order were scurrying through the streets of Cincinnati in the direction of the hall where Reuben R. Springer Council holds its regular meetings. Each of the four Councils which were to take part in the initiation had a goodly number of representatives on hand besides the candidates for initiation. The visitors from other places swelled the number to over 600. Forming in line they marched in good order to St. Paul's church, where they heard solemn high mass at 10 o'clock. The members of the Young Men's Institute completely filled the two center aisles. The altars were handsomely decorated with flowers and were ablaze with electric lights and candles. The sermon on the Gospel of the day was preached by the Rev. Father Lamping, of the Diocesan Seminary of Cincinnati.

Father Lamping bade his hearers seek God and remember the wonderful things he has done. He said it was most reassuring in our day, when men are almost wholly steeped in commercialism, or else on pleasure bent, imbued with skepticism and infidelity, to see so many young men attending to their religious duties. Religion, Father Lamping said, should engage the attention of every right minded man. Religion contains all that the spirit and heart of man desires. The true nature and essence of religion are the ties by which we are bound to God. All creatures, said the speaker, belong to their Creator, as the pictures of the masters belong to the artists who painted them. Man may abandon God, deny his fundamental principles, may shine with false splendor, but he has left the source of true life and will be swallowed up in eternal darkness. "I am the beginning and the end," saith the Lord. Father Lamping also quoted the utterances of St. Thomas Aquinas and St. Augustine on the awful loss of those who have failed in the service of God, who is our birth, our life and our death. Man, he said, can only find happiness in the confession of God. Irreligion is paralysis of the soul. What is nature but a magnificent temple created by God? He closed by urging his hearers to seek that God civilly as well as religiously.

It was noon when mass was over. Members of the order scattered off in various directions for their dinner. A majority of the visitors dined at the Denison Hotel.

The initiatory exercises were held in Knights of Pythias Hall and began at 2 o'clock. The four officers' chairs were filled as follows: Thomas W. Burke, of Robert F. Doyle Council, with Father Runnebaum and Gym Maher; Dr. Joseph A. Riordan, with Joseph P. Kealey and John Ankenbauer; Joseph Cassidy, with Father Matthew Higgins and William Perry, Grand President Kentucky jurisdiction; John E. Fitzpatrick, with Jacob J. Kaesper, of Madison, Ind., and William H. Higgins, of Louisville. Thomas W. Burke presided and Dr. Joseph Reardon sat in the Vice President's chair. After the meeting had been called to order John J. Luby, Past Grand President of the Kentucky jurisdiction, addressed the assembly in a congratulatory speech and complimented the members on the unusually large turnout. John F. Aukenhauer, of Doyle Council, Cincinnati, was introduced. He said he was glad to notice the great interest awakened and hoped it would not end there. He predicted that the membership of the order would soon be doubled.

Gym Maher gave the charge and instructions to the new candidates. He also gave a resume of the history of the Young Men's Institute, its aims and objects. He said the past history of the order was a glorious one; that it was a thoroughly American institution and that this was the twenty-first year of its establishment.

When he mentioned the name of Fred E. Mackentepky, the pioneer member of the order in Cincinnati, he was cheered to the echo. Mr. Maher told how the work had gone steadily forward. He said faith, fatherland and fraternity were the true objects of the order. Race lines had been wiped out and warring elements had been succeeded by the grasp of fraternity and good-fellowship. He told how the first volunteer regiment to serve the United States in the Philippines was commanded by Col. James Smith, a Catholic and a member of the order, and how 90 per cent. of the regiment was made up of members of the Young Men's Institute of California.

Joseph P. Kealey, Grand President of the Ohio jurisdiction, spoke of "The Present," which he said possesses a meaning far beyond what the most profound philosopher has been able to solve. The future contains our fondest hopes, all that we are striving for. We can not say that time is here. There is no real present, only passing time. Now is our record-making time and the hope for a happy future. He said that as he looked around and saw the magnificent gathering of young men looking forward, onward and upward, he hoped they would realize and learn the great responsibilities that rest upon them. Don't put off what you have to do. Be good to father and mother. Reverence the one and make the other happy.

The candidates were then presented to Second Vice President Cassidy, who administered the obligation in a very impressive manner. William Perry, Grand President of the Kentucky jurisdiction, [CONTINUED ON THIRD PAGE.]

SUB-GRADUATES

At Nazareth Academy Produced a Pretty Little Drama Last Week.

Friends of the Pupils Greatly Enjoyed Their Artistic Efforts.

Tasteful Address Preceded the Presentation of the Drama.

LOUISVILLE GIRLS IN THE CAST

The sub-graduates at Nazareth Academy gave a very enjoyable entertainment in their own hall on Wednesday evening of last week. Quite a number of Louisville ladies, friends and relatives of the young ladies attended the affair and were well pleased with the ability displayed. Preceding the presentation of the drama the following address was delivered:

"With more than ordinary pleasure, Reverend Father, Mother and Sisters, we greet you tonight, for we, second seniors, are about to realize our long-felt desire to present our first dramatic effort. Unhappily and sad circumstances have caused divers unavoidable delays in its preparation. However, the glad alleluia are still lingering with us in the happy Easter-tide, so we hope some faint echo of the jubilant strains may blend with our merry voices this evening, making the occasion one of real festivity. As the drama progresses the play will unfold. Though not a veritable 'Feast of Reason' nor 'Flow of Song,' we earnestly trust it will enable you to while away a pleasant hour. In conclusion we beg to express our appreciation of the encouraging presence of our kind audience, and we hope we shall succeed in interesting our schoolmates also, from the little folks to the young lady graduates, who during the winter entertained us so well with their beautiful 'Fabiola.' The drama to be presented is entitled 'Heirs of Rockford.'"

The cast of characters was as follows: Madame Stanita Rockford, of Rockford Hall, a philanthropic widow, Miss Sallie McAllister, Mrs. Stafford, her lady companion, Miss Mary Foster Morrison, English attendant to Madame Rockford, Miss Minnie Kearns, Mrs. Marie Riverton, daughter of Mrs. Rockford, Miss Marie O'Brien, Verna and Psyche, twin darlings, little maids to Mrs. Riverton, Misses Mary Virginia Martin and Marcella Ford.

The Countess Lillian de Flacheton, a daughter, who married a Parisian Count and lives abroad. Miss Mariana Reigler, Baroness Von Schuyler.

Miss Eliza Kinkhead, Hon. Everett Blackstone, family lawyer of the Rockfords, Miss Nellie De Lancy, Mrs. Everett Blackstone, his wife, Miss Marie Clarke, Graduating class—Gwendoline Rockford, niece of Madame Rockford, Miss Lella Bryant, Olivette Rockford, sister of Gwendoline, Miss Eulalie Hallibron, Cordelia Briarton, daughter of Madame Rockford's school friend, Miss Marie Rapier, Berenice, Miss Clara Erdman, Preciosa, Miss Mary Clarke, Edith, Miss Nora Mitchell, Elsie, Miss Kate Hallibron, Ruth, Miss Vivian Wimsitt, Sister Genevieve, Superior of the academy, Miss Kate Brown.

The story of the drama enacted by these young ladies is as follows: Madame Rockford is a very wealthy widow, who has bequeathed her wealth, after several minor bequests to servants and her friend Mrs. Stafford, to her niece, Gwendoline and Olivette Rockford. Gwendoline is a very worldly young maiden, whose whole life is centered in the inheritance she is to get after her aunt's death. The daughters and friends of Madame Rockford celebrate her fiftieth birthday in grand style, the daughters returning home from foreign parts for the occasion. The old home, decorated with palms and gold, together with myriads of lights, presents a pleasing spectacle. Mrs. Stafford entertains her old friend with music and recitation. Shortly after this festival Mrs. Rockford happens to overhear her niece Gwendoline expressing sentiments in regard to her wealth that convince her it is better to cast her on her own resources. Madame Rockford decides at once to change her will, substituting in Gwendoline's place Cordelia Briarton, the daughter of an old and devoted school friend. While the lawyer and Mrs. Rockford are changing the will Gwendoline overhears the conversation and resolves that Cordelia shall not interfere with her share. Madame Rockford, who is subject to heart failure, is seized with one of her usual attacks after Mr. Blackstone's departure and succumbs to the disease. Gwendoline, thinking that her aunt is only asleep, steals in takes the will, placing it in her sleeve and then leaves. After her aunt's death she suffers great remorse for such a deed. It plays on her conscience so that she has no rest. Even at night she is walking in her sleep and talking about it. One night her sister sees her in this act with a candle in her hand and, spying the will, she takes it herself. Gwendoline drops the candle and sets fire to the homestead. Feeling such great remorse of conscience she afterward makes an open confession and repents of her conduct. The will is then executed and all sympathize with the poor Gwendoline.

The characters were exceptionally well portrayed, and among those who deserve special mention are Misses Marcella Ford, Marie O'Brien and Clara Erdman, all of Louisville.

GENERAL HALL

For Catholics Is a Necessity and All Should Aid the Project.

Owing to the fact that sufficient notice had not been given to many of the congregations, the general meeting Sunday night to hear the report of the sub-committee from the various congregations, which were soliciting funds to build the new general hall, was unusually small. Attorney Thomas P. Walsh presided. When Secretary John A. Doyle called the roll it developed that fourteen congregations were not represented at the meeting. The committees present made their several reports, which indicated that between $5,000 and $6,000 of the $25,000 necessary had been subscribed. It was deemed wise to adjourn until May 17, at which time it is expected every congregation will be represented by one or more men, and that the amount of subscriptions will have materially increased.

This general Catholic hall, with its accompanying gymnasium and swimming pool, is a necessity and it behooves every man to assist in assuring its erection.

GERMAN EMPEROR

Traveled in State to Visit Our Holy Father, Leo XIII., Last Sunday.

Emperor William of Germany paid a visit to his holiness, Leo XIII., last Sunday. The German Emperor traveled in state from the German embassy to the Vatican. He was in full uniform and was accompanied by his sons, Prince Frederick William and Prince Eitel. At the entrance to the Vatican picked Swiss guards took charge of the royal equipage. Emperor William was met by Monsignor Cagiano de Azevedo, who presented the Papal chamberlains and other dignitaries. The Pope, as on the occasion of King Edward's visit, met the Emperor on the threshold of his private chamber. The Pope and the Emperor conversed in French. The two young German Princes were then presented to the Pope. Emperor William and Pope Leo retired to the latter's private study, where they conversed forty minutes. After the audience Emperor William returned direct to the Prussian embassy and was visited a little later by Cardinal Rampolla. Both the Pope and the Emperor expressed themselves as well pleased with the result of the visit.

STATE FEDERATION

Of Catholic Societies Will Meet in This City Next Month.

The Jefferson County Catholic Federation held its regular monthly meeting at Hilbert Hall last Friday night. Dr. J. W. Fowler presided. Upon roll call it was shown that thirteen societies affiliated with the federation were represented by one or more members. Secretary Eugene Cooney read a number of communications and circulars which were received and filed.

William T. Meehan reported that the committee deemed it wise to defer the social meeting until the time of the State Federation. The report of the committee was adopted. Secretary Cooney will send out notices to all Catholic societies in the State urging them to forward the names of their respective delegates at once. Dr. Frank S. Clark moved that a committee be appointed to make arrangements for the meeting of the State Federation which is to be held here in June. President Fowler, after the motion was carried, appointed on this committee Dr. P. S. Clark and Eugene Cooney.

A communication from the National Federation giving full details of the Federation movement in Eastern cities and stating that in New York City the Federation would select its delegates to the national convention on May 15. Delegate Louis J. Steiner invited all the delegates of the Jefferson County Federation to attend the annual inspection and drill of the Knights of St. John at Phoenix Hill Park on May 18. All bills were ordered paid, after which the meeting adjourned for one month.

RAGAN'S SUCCESS.

Hopkins' Temple Theater has closed for the season. Under the management of Henry Ragan the Hopkins' Temple has proven a drawing card. This is the first time in years that the Temple management has made money and it is due in a great measure to the ability and foresight of Mr. Ragan. Before trying his luck as a manager Mr. Ragan was a dramatic critic, and a good one. He is thoroughly versed on dramatics and show people. He knows what pleases the people and he caters to the public taste. It is to be hoped that Mr. Ragan will continue as manager of this popular show house next year. Then we can rest assured that the vaudeville attractions there will be of a high character.

HIBERNIAN FAIR

Proves a Success and New Albany People Are Well Pleased.

Other Organizations Helped to Make the Affair an Enjoyable Event.

Louisville Hibernians Aided Their Brothers Across the Ohio River.

WILL CLOSE AMID GLORY TONIGHT

The Hibernian fair which has been held in New Albany during the present week has been a success and will close tonight in a blaze of glory. The Ancient Order of Hibernians is well thought of in New Albany and the fair given under its auspices was well attended each night.

The fair was held in Holy Trinity Hall, on Market street, New Albany. The hall was tastefully decorated in green, red, white and blue, and the scene inside was a pretty one. On Monday night the ladies of the First ward were in charge with Mrs. John H. Beeler as chairman. The members of the Young Men's Institute attended the fair that night and spent money liberally.

On Tuesday night the ladies of the Second ward had charge of the fair. Mrs. Maggie Flynn was chairman of the committee. It was known as Knights of Pythias night. The members of the uniform rank attended in a body. They were likewise liberal with their money. On Wednesday night the ladies of the Third ward were in charge with Mrs. James Hartshorn as chairman. On this occasion the Macabees were the guests of the Hibernians and their presence was appreciated, as they were as free with their money as the other organizations had been.

Thursday night was Hibernian night and the Hibernians of Louisville, Jeffersonville and New Albany turned out in force. The ladies of the Fourth ward were in charge under the direction of Mrs. Dan Walsh. Friday night the ladies of the Fifth and Sixth wards were in charge with Mrs. James O'Hara as chairman. Tonight will be labor night and a greater crowd than ever is expected. The ladies of the Seventh ward will be in charge with Mrs. Maggie Hughes as chairman.

The various booths were tastefully decorated and many handsome and useful articles were disposed of. Mrs. Betty Graf was in charge of the fancy work booth. Miss Mamie Rabha was in charge of the Ancient Order of Hibernian booth. Miss Nan Wall presided over the ice-cream booth, and Miss Mary Hackett at the Japanese booth. Each of these ladies was assisted by several popular young ladies.

The night of nights was Thursday, when the Louisville and Jeffersonville Hibernians turned out in goodly numbers, Kentucky being well represented. State President Tom Keenan and County President Pat Sullivan, escorted by John Mulloy, Thomas Walsh, Francis Maher, Edward Craddock, David O'Connell, Peter Cusick, the representatives of the Kentucky Irish American and many others from this city were met at the Ninth-street station by County President Pat Kennedy and a committee and escorted to Holy Trinity Hall, where they were given a hearty "cead mile failte" by President Dan Walsh, Secretaries James O'Hara and John Winn, James Russell, James Higgins and the members of Division 1.

During the evening the visitors were shown the greatest courtesy by Miss Mary Hackett, the pretty little Japanese lady who dispensed the chocolate, and also by Miss Loretta Higgins and a bevy of other lovely girls. All the handsome booths were visited and patronized and quite a goodly number of chances taken. Tom Walsh and John Mulloy were constantly surrounded by attractive girls, and for a time it seemed certain the former had been captured and would remain in New Albany.

After taking in everything of interest our Presidents were given seats on the stage and the rest sought prizes. Francis Maher was the most lucky, winning almost enough housefurnishings to justify him in taking unto himself a wife. County President Sullivan captured a handsome rug, but the others had to content themselves with the chocolate tea, supper, ice cream and other delicacies served so lavishly by Mrs. Dan Walsh and her large corps of lady assistants. Division 1 of New Albany has reason to congratulate itself upon the results of its fair. It was a grand and deserved success, and Hibernians of this and adjoining cities will learn with pleasure that a handsome sum will be realized. The fair closes tonight.

REPORT RAPID PROGRESS.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Louis Bertrand's Church Debt Association was held last Monday evening in the school hall. The association reports continued success in its work, and the people of the congregation show a decided interest in its progress. Very Rev. J. D. Fowler will read the association's semi-annual report at all the masses tomorrow morning.

LOUISVILLE, KY. SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1903.

SOMETHING WRONG.

There was warm discussion about streets in the Board of Aldermen Tuesday evening. Aldermen Fitzgerald and Uri made serious charges, fully sustained by facts and conditions. No city spends more proportionately for street construction, repairs and cleaning, and yet no city has streets in worse condition and dirtier than Louisville. Last year lack of funds was pleaded. This year the street tax is doubled and the streets worse. What is the matter? Who is to blame? The people pay the money and get streets full of holes, in many places impassable, mud and filth in wet weather, and blinding dust in dry. Something is wrong, and it is high time it was discovered and remedied.

BOTH SIDES GAIN.

The first of May has passed without the universal labor strikes predicted and expected. This is not due to the fact that the workers weakened in their demands because they could not insist upon them, for labor was never more thoroughly organized and strong to enforce its terms, but as the result of the more peaceful, equitable and sensible methods of all bona-fide labor organizations and reasonable and just employers—conference, arbitration and concessions. Labor gains in shorter hours, better wages and conditions, and the employers in satisfied and more efficient labor, and both in a more kindly feeling of mutual interest and confidence with an assurance of peaceful and prosperous employment and trade. Only the employers or laborers who refuse the conciliatory course have had friction and trouble; they alone are to blame for it, and they alone are suffering the consequences of their obstinacy and folly. Let them fight it out in their own sweet way. This is a free country.

THERE IS A LIMIT.

Another assassination in Breathitt county is the cause of denunciation of the people of the mountain section. This is but another form of lynch law, and while in lynchings the people are not blameless, the really responsible parties are the officers of the law and courts, who do not enforce the law, or worse, make a travesty of law; crime is neither punished or restrained; the law does not protect the people, who becoming disgusted and desperate, resort to unlawful means to protect themselves against what they believe wrong or revenge upon those they hold responsible for it. There is no confidence nor respect for law because its representatives have rendered it unworthy of both. This is not only true of the mountain region, but elsewhere in the State, Louisville not excepted, as the result of criminal trials too frequently attest. That assassinations and lynchings are not more frequent in Kentucky is due to the forbearance of the law-abiding people, to which there is a limit, and when this limit is reached it is useless to appeal to reason or respect for law—the people make short shrift of the victims of their wrath. The lynchings are guilty, but not they alone. Those responsible for such conditions are primarily guilty.

THE LAND BILL.

The Irish Land bill passed to its second reading in the British Parliament, and was then formally before the House for amendment, debate, adoption or rejection. The bill is being supported by the Government, though the opposition to the bill comes from the Conservative (Government) party, Mr. Coghall and Sir George Bartley supporting a motion to reject the bill. Mr. John Redmond, on behalf of the Irish party, landlords and tenants, stated he would present and urge amendments, which he hoped the Government would accept, otherwise the Irish party would wash its hands of all responsibility for the measure. If the Irish party's amendments are accepted the bill will certainly pass the House of Commons; without the amendments it will probably pass. Its fate in the House of Lords is not even discussed as yet, nor is it likely to be until the character of the bill has been indicated by the House of Commons. It seems to be tacitly admitted, however, that the bill, whatever its character, will pass the Lords by a close vote because it is a Government measure.

From the present outlook it seems the bill will not pass this session of Parliament. While there is little open opposition to the objects of the bill, there is little satisfaction with some of its provisions. The Irish party has frankly stated its position, and unless the bill is amended to suit them they will make no effort to secure its passage; if amended as the Irish party wish, then the anti-Irish opposition will unite and likely prevent its acceptance by the Lords. It is possible, and this seems to be the only hope for the bill in this session, that the bill being amended as demanded by the Irish party and approved by those directly interested—the Irish landlords and tenantry—will bring to its support the united efforts and votes of the Irish party, Irish Lords, advocates of land reform, and the Government may restrain the opposition and force its passage.

It is evident from Mr. Redmond's remarks that the friends of the bill hardly expect it to pass, and are pursuing a course indicative of a preliminary battle to gain what they can at present without committing themselves as to the future; they have announced their position with an emphatic declaration that they are not responsible for the bill as presented; whether passed or rejected, they are free to contend in the future for such bill or amendment as they prefer. Their open and frank declaration is to the credit of the Irish party and people; it commands respect of advocates as well as opponents of Irish interests. The Irish party can now honorably vote for the bill, or against it, or abstain from voting, as they deem best. The bill is a Government, not an Irish measure; the Government is responsible for it, and its passage or defeat rests with the Government; if amended as the Irish people desire, then to that extent the Irish people will be responsible and interested in its passage or defeat.

The Irish party have thus thrown down the gauntlet to the Government. Amend the bill, and the Irish party will aid the Government in securing its passage; refuse to amend it, then the Government must redeem its pledge to pass it or risk its defeat by a Parliament, both branches of which are controlled by a majority of the Government party—a rebuff to the Government by its own party.

Capt. Dreyfus is striving to reopen his case in France. The Captain ought to be satisfied with his vindication. Another trial may not result so favorably, as he will not have public sympathy as before. While not guilty as charged, he was not blameless, and another court may return a more definite verdict.

The editor of the Kentucky Irish American desires to return thanks in behalf of the Louisville delegation that attended the Young Men's Institute initiation at Cincinnati last Sunday for courtesies received at the hands of Messrs. Joseph A. Cassidy, Joseph P. Kealey, John E. Fitzpatrick, Gerald Connolly, Thos. Burke and others.

MACKIN COUNCIL.

Is Preparing to Give Its Annual Outing at Fern Grove.

Mackin Council, Y. M. I., held a well attended meeting last Tuesday night. President Murphy presided. Three new members were elected and four applications for membership were received. The Dance Committee and the Euchre Committee both made reports to the effect that these two enterprises were successes. These reports were received with applause.

The Dance Committee, composed of Jack Shelly, Dan Weber and Edmund Coleman, was empowered to make arrangements for another dance to be given at Fountain Ferry Park the latter part of this month. William Kerberg made an interesting talk on the joint initiation which took place at Cincinnati last Sunday. Louis Straub also made an interesting talk.

After the adjournment of the council the Pledge Committee composed of George Laut, Frank Adams, George Simonis, William Kerberg, Frank Lashan, Tom Shaughnessy, Hugh Higgins, Alfred Wald, John Galway and Fred Herp, held a meeting to consider arrangements for the picnic to be given by Mackin Council on June 9. It was decided to print combination tickets for the picnic. These combination tickets will entitle each purchaser of a twenty-five cent ticket to a chance on fourteen prizes besides the trip up the river to Fern Grove and admission to the grounds. The following Music Committee was appointed: Ben Sand, Frank Lashan and Thomas Shaughnessy. This picnic which is to be given at Fern Grove promises to eclipse all former efforts of Mackin Council. All arrangements are progressing favorably.

BANNER EUCHERE.

Already over a hundred costly prizes have been donated, and the various committees are making ample arrangements for the entertainment of several thousand people.

delivered an address on "The Future." He said no one knew what the future had in store. Tomorrow never comes. Therefore act for the better this instant. The future looks bright and prosperous. Final instructions to the candidates were given by President Thomas W. Burke, of Doyle Council. A letter was read from Archbishop Elder expressing his regret at being unable to be present and sending his blessing to the members and the candidates.

Rev. Father Runnebaum, of Holy Trinity church, was called upon and gave advice and words of encouragement. He dwelt upon the pleasant relations existing between the Young Men's Institute councils and their respective pastors. Father Matthew Higgins was then called upon and said that he was pleased and impressed with the simplicity and grandeur of the initiatory ceremonies. Letters of regret were read from James A. Cotter, of Ironton, O., James M. O'Brien, of Roanoke, Va., Supreme Secretary of the order. After this the members spent a short time in social chat before adjourning to the banquet, served in another hall.

After discussing the elaborate menu set before them, the members settled back comfortably to enjoy the addresses and music furnished for their delectation. The music, by the way, under the supervision of Miss M. A. Cassidy, greatly added to the gaiety of the occasion. After the opening Y. M. I. march by harp, violin and flute, Joseph Cassidy, First Vice President of the Kentucky Jurisdiction, arose in his place as toastmaster and welcomed all to the banquet. Mr. Cassidy was as happy in his introductory remarks as he was in introducing the several speakers. He introduced John E. Fitzpatrick, of Cincinnati, who responded to the toast, "The Plain People." He said in brief that the plain people are those who live simple and correct lives, the best of people. This was followed by a song excellently rendered by George Grunkemeyer.

William M. Higgins, of Louisville, responded to the toast, "The Press." In brief he said that next to the clergy the Catholic press was looked to as a power for good among the people, and urged all to support that press in its endeavors to uplift the people to a higher moral plane.

Miss M. A. Cassidy rendered with feeling a harp solo, "My Old Kentucky Home." William F. Ray, Past Grand President of the Ohio Jurisdiction, responded to "Good of the Order." He expressed the belief from what he had seen and heard during the day that Cincinnati would again take the lead in promulgating the ideas and aims of the Young Men's Institute. He said that the good of the order was best promoted by such gatherings and such good Catholic work as had been witnessed that day. He concluded by telling a good Chauncey Depew story. Dr. D. A. Leahy sang "Hearts and Flowers" in excellent style, after which the Rev. Father Kuhlman, of Mt. St. Mary's Seminary spoke. He delivered an excellent impromptu speech, during which he urged the young men to pitch their ideas high. Father Kuhlman spoke eloquently of the great Liberator, Daniel O'Connell, whose heart reposes in Rome, while his body is buried in Ireland. He bade the young men maximize smiles and minimize tears by keeping a clear conscience. A bad conscience, he said, leads to an early grave.

Gerald Connolly, of Lafayette Council, Newport, Ky., the originator of the joint initiation that was being celebrated, was introduced and was received with applause. Among other things he said that while the organization was twenty-one years old, the oldest branch represented on the present occasion was only eleven years old. He told how the church persevered in building up its membership; how the Young Men's Institute, like the tradesmen, had learned to trade and was now prepared for carrying out the constitution, its most important work.

William Kenney, who has grown bold in the service of the order, was called upon. Mr. Kenney is a charter member of Doyle Council. He paid a high tribute to President Thomas W. Burke. He also touched upon the assistance rendered the members and to their widows and fatherless children. Frank Schneider, of Springfield Council, Cincinnati, made the last address. All present joined in singing "America," after which the banquet was brought to a close.

YOUNG LIFE ENDED.

Miss Elizabeth Mathison, the fifteen year old daughter of Thomas and Mary Mathison, died at the home of her parents, 430 Twentieth street last Friday after a lingering and painful illness. Miss Mathison was well and favorably known in the West End and her loss will be mourned by a large circle of friends. Their sympathy goes out to the grief stricken parents and to her brothers and sisters, Edward and Thomas and Misses Mayme and Katie Bell Mathison. The deceased was a niece of Mrs. Phil McGovern. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from St. Cecilia's church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The interment was in St. Louis cemetery.

JOHN B. CHENAULT

Has Support of Many Irish-Americans in His Race For Auditor.

Readers of the Kentucky Irish American are called to remember that the Democratic State primary takes place today and to the fact that John B. Chenault is a candidate for State Auditor, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Chenault's advertisement in the Kentucky Irish American last week and today should give him a pleasant introduction to its readers both in the city and out in the State.

Mr. Chenault is a whole-souled, genial gentleman, who understands thoroughly the workings of the State Auditor's office, and if nominated and elected will capably fill the position. He has been in politics for several years and has always set his standard high. Even his political enemies have been unable to find any flaw in his record. His acts commend him to the careful consideration of every true Democrat. His many friends in Louisville believe he will win, but are sparing no pains to see that he wins easily and with clean hands.

THE AUDITORIUM.

Weber and Fields great aggregation of comedy stars will appear at the Auditorium Monday in their latest hit "Twirly-Whirly," a medley of fun and music. Besides Weber and Fields there will be such footlight favorites as Lillian Russell, Fay Templeton, Louise Allen, Mabel Barrison, William Collier, Peter Dailley, Charles Bigelow and John T. Kelly. The chorus and orchestra will include 125 people.

MORE TRANSFERS.

The Louisville Railway Company in this issue of the Kentucky Irish American announces a number of new transfers by slips. It is with pleasure that the public see that President Thomas J. Minary is trying to better the service of the street-car company. New and handsome cars, with conductors, have been put on several lines and the street-car service this summer promises to be in many ways a great improvement over past years.

HUSTLERS.

Members of Division 3 Transacted a World of Business Monday Night.

Several Important Changes in the By-Laws Have Been Recommended.

County President Patrick Sullivan Read a Paper On Gen. T. F. Meagher.

AN INTERESTING SOCIAL SESSION

Division 3, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held a regular meeting last Monday night, which was followed by a thoroughly enjoyable social session. Secretary Pat Welch called the meeting to order in the absence of President John Cavanagh. James Coleman was unanimously chosen Chairman. Patrolman Pat Mullen filled the Vice President's chair. The Secretary read a communication from the Catholic Federation and the request made by that body was favorably acted upon. The Visiting Committee reported that there was no one on the sick list.

The Special Committee reported a set of new by-laws. The most important change suggested was that which limited the members to but one term of office. Another change suggested was that no member three months in arrears will be entitled to sick benefits. The new by-laws also provide for the dues of those members long out of work. The report of the committee was received, but under the rules will lay over until the next meeting, at which time the members of the committee will explain the reasons for the proposed changes. The per capita tax to the Jefferson County Catholic Federation was ordered paid.

The applications of T. J. Reardon and John J. McGuire were received and given to a committee. Joseph Hart and William Hart were elected members and then initiated. The following degree team officiated: Pat Welch, Patrician; Pat Sullivan, Oracle; Thomas Quinn, Bard; Lawrence Mackey, Grand Guide.

County President Patrick T. Sullivan read a carefully prepared paper on General Thomas Francis Meagher, who after a patriotic career in Ireland came to America and fought valiantly for the preservation of the Union. Mr. Sullivan's paper was well received.

Secretary Welch reported that the County Board had granted Division 3 permission to give a series of social entertainments and also to organize a company of Hibernian Knights. This military company is to be composed of young men, not only from Division 3, but from any and all of the four local divisions. Both announcements were received with applause. It may be understood right now that Division 3 will put its best foot forward in arranging these social entertainments. Moreover the new Hibernian Knights will be made up of a class of young Irish-Americans that will be a credit to the order. It was announced that the fourth degree would be conferred at the next meeting.

State Secretary Meahan, who was present, on being called upon made a brief speech complimentary to the division in general and to the paper read by County President Pat Sullivan in particular. John Treacy, of Division 1, another visitor, expressed himself as greatly pleased with the singing during the evening, and expressed the wish that all the divisions would make greater efforts toward organizing suitable choirs. Among the other visitors who made short addresses were John Reilly, of Division 4, Owen Keiran, Edward Keiran and William Quilligan, all of Division 2.

After the business session had been brought to a close acting President Coleman invited all present to partake of the refreshments provided for the issuer man. The members and guests fell upon the refreshment tables at once and did justice to the good things provided. The Literary Committee was in charge of the refreshments. It was made up of George Butler, Mike Carroll, Pat Welch, Tom Quinn, John Broderick and Edward Mackey. Quite a pleasant hour was spent by the members in telling yarns and in doing justice to the viands set before them.

UNITY COUNCIL MEETS.

Unity Council, Young Men's Institute, of New Albany, Ind., held its meeting Tuesday night. Messrs. Frank Grant, John Ott and Frank M. Tice were initiated. Charles Dowd and David Jones were reported on the sick list. Charles Cheap was elected Treasurer, vice Charles Moser, resigned. Ed. Graf was elected to fill a vacancy on the Executive Committee. Tickets were distributed

IRELAND.
Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

Division 5 of Providence, R. I., conferred the four degrees on a class of forty last Sunday.
The new constitutions will now be distributed by State Secretary Will Meehan, having just arrived.
Division 8 of Lawrence, Mass., has brought to a successful conclusion its thirty-third annual bazaar.
Division 3 of Paterson, N. J., is preparing to celebrate its third anniversary on July 30 with a big banquet.
Division 1 meets Tuesday night. President Mike Tynan will have some important news for the members.
The Ladies' Auxiliary of Suffolk county, Mass., held a ball at Charlestown recently and realized a handsome sum of money.
Division 1 of Westerly, R. I., which has a membership of 200, has purchased an old Episcopal church which will be converted into a lodge room.
Division 6 of Jersey City will give a smoker on the night of May 27. County President Patrick O'Mara, of the United Irish Societies, will deliver an address.
The Hibernians of Lynn, Mass., are proud of their new and handsome hall, which was recently dedicated with a grand ball under the auspices of Division 10.
The matter of a fine military company rests for the present with the young men of Division 3. A company of at least a hundred swords ought to be mustered in to lead the Louisville Hibernians when they go to St. Louis.
Hibernians of Essex and Bristol counties, Mass., and the Hibernian Rifles of Boston held a successful street parade in Salem recently. More than 2,000 men were in line and thousands came from nearby towns to witness the procession.
Next Wednesday night Division 4 will meet. There are many awaiting with much interest the summer programme of the Limerick men. They have not forgotten the good old times, and a day's outing or moonlight affair would be patronized by thousands.
The increase of the membership in the order in New York City has been so great within the past few months that it has been found necessary to increase the number of meetings of the County Board to two a month instead of one to accommodate the new applicants.
The New York County Board may present the division initiating the greatest number of members before next year's round trip ticket to the St. Louis Exposition. The winning division will probably award the prize to the one securing the largest number of candidates.

BIZOT FOR AGENT.
Councilman Augustus J. Bizot is to be the Auditor's Agent for this district in the event of the nomination and election of Samuel W. Hager as State Auditor. Mr. Hager has been in the city during the week managing his campaign. He has an able lieutenant in Mr. Bizot.

MACAULEY'S.
The regular season at Macanley's Theater will close tonight with Lieber & Co.'s performance of Romeo and Juliet with an all star cast, including Kyrle Bellew and Miss Eleanor Robson. There will only be two performances in Louisville, the matinee this afternoon and the closing performance tonight. Seats are now on sale.
BUCKINGHAM.
The High Flyer Burlesquers will be the next attraction at the Buckingham Theater. The advance agent claims that this aggregation of artists will present two forceful frolics full of sunshine and sparkle, the wittiest and brightest burlesques of the season. This is the first time this season that the High Flyer Burlesquers have appeared here. In addition to the burlesques a magnificent olio of vaudeville attractions will please the Buckingham patrons.

THE CRITERION HOP.
Fountain Ferry Park will be the Mecca for a gay gathering Tuesday night, May 19, when the popular Criterion Club will give its first select hop. This affair promises to be quite a social success and even more enjoyable than the ones given at the club house. Among the well known young men on the Reception Committee are Messrs. Charles D. Boyle, William B. O'Brien, Robert J. Heuglin, John J. Kelly and Edward J. Mackey.

GARDINER AGAINST HART.
Marvin Hart, of Louisville, and George Gardiner, of Lowell, Mass., are to box twenty rounds at the Auditorium next Wednesday night under the auspices of Col. Robert E. Gray's Southern Athletic Club. George Gardiner is a native of the Conny Clare, Ireland, twenty miles from where Jack Dempsey was born. Gardiner is an athletic young fellow, proud of his Irish birth and has made friends among the Irish-Americans wherever he has traveled. He will find an able foe in our fellow townsman, Marvin Hart.
